

Colorado Heights Camping Resort

Three generations of family fun in the shadow of the Rocky Mountains

Stacey Biggs has been coming to Colorado Heights Camping Resort since she was a toddler back in the 1980s. Little did she know then that she was destined to marry the owner's son, Richard, and wind up running the place with him.

These days, Stacey and Richard's favorite saying is "Welcome home," and they work hard to make sure guests are treated like part of the family. "We want you to feel like this is your home away from home," says Stacey.

Who wouldn't want to call Colorado Heights home, with its 28 acres of fragrant pine trees and astonishing views of the Rockies and legendary Pikes Peak? "RVers can choose between tree-covered spots or sites without trees for views of the mountains," says Richard.

The Coast Premier Resort makes it easy to enjoy the outdoors with a swimming pool and hot tub, a private fishing pond, nature trails, a playground, shuffleboard, volleyball and miniature golf. The resort's location between Colorado

Springs and Denver and proximity to I-25 make it the perfect base camp for exploring the region.

There's always something fun going on here, thanks to an on-site activity director. Events range from Christmas in July, with visits from Santa and a live band, to Halloween hayrides and a haunted house. The Fourth of July Olympics has teams competing in 10 games, from rowing across the pond without getting dumped in to using a golf cart to back up a trailer.

Richard and Stacey have six-year-old twins who've lived at Colorado Heights much of their lives. They're the third generation of Biggs with camping in their blood. "The members and staff are enjoying watching them grow up before their eyes," notes Stacey.

The Biggs have big ideas for making Colorado Heights even better and are constantly making improvements to the property. "We're always looking for new ways to make everyone's stay enjoyable," says Stacey.

LOCATION: Monument, Colorado

RESORT TYPE: Coast Premier

SEASON: Year-round

WEBSITE: coloradoheights.com

WOODALL FACILITIES: ♦♦♦♦♦

WOODALL RECREATION: ♦♦♦♦♦

