“This private campground is a paradise!” writes the Banks family on Gettysburg Battlefield Resort’s website. “They have a pool, a great playground, a café and ice-cream store, even Internet access. You need it, they got it!”

Just a stone’s throw away from America’s most famous battlefield, this Travel Resorts of America property not only makes good on its mission to provide family fun, it gives guests a front row seat for experiencing Civil War history. Gettysburg National Military Park is literally right next door. Within minutes, you and your family can be standing in the place where Abraham Lincoln gave his historic Gettysburg Address.

“An ideal location for history fanatics—so close to Gettysburg Battlefield!”

posts RVer Robert Straud on the resort’s website. “Like stepping back in time.”

Naturally, there’s more to this region than Civil War history. Tour the nearby Eisenhower National Historic Site, the president and first lady’s home and weekend retreat from the White House. Explore the Appalachian Trail as it meanders through the South Mountains of Pennsylvania. Visit Lancaster’s Dutch Country and “the Sweetest Place on Earth” in Hershey.

Back at Gettysburg Battlefield Resort, you’ll find shaded RV campsites with 30- or 50-amp service, an Olympic-size pool, a playground, horseshoes, nature trails, ball courts, a snack bar and a game room. Pedal boats ply the resort’s catch-and-release fishing lake. And there’s always something fun going on in the farmhouse lodge.

Opened in the mid-1980s, Gettysburg Battlefield Resort covers all the bases with an on-site general store, laundry facilities and air-conditioned bathhouses. Pets are welcome on a leash and in the off-leash pet park at this full-service Coast Deluxe retreat.
