Get away to the inland Northwest's pine tree wonderland

Spokane's slogan is "Near Nature. Near Perfect," and that's true for Washington's second largest city as well as suburban Cheney's Ponderosa Falls RV Resort. Step out of your RV, breathe in the fresh air and fragrant pine trees, and you're on track for a fun and relaxing outdoor vacation at this wooded Coast Deluxe Resort.

Just 20 miles from the Idaho border and 110 miles from British Columbia, Spokane is the hub of the inland Northwest yet still has a welcoming small town feel. Ponderosa Falls RV Resort is just as hospitable, with staff members encouraging guests to join in planned activities from crafts to karaoke to candy bar bingo. Take advantage of the scheduled hayrides and live entertainment to get to know your campground neighbors.

For active outdoor fun, play a round on the 18-hole mini-golf course or head to the sport courts for basketball, horseshoes, volleyball and pickleball. The game arcade and ping-pong and pool tables keep folks occupied indoors. For children under 60 pounds, there's a lagoon with pedal boats. And everyone can enjoy a refreshing soak in the pool and hot tub.

Resort guests get their fill of traditional RV park fare at the pancake and waffle breakfasts and can sample the Northwest's finest at crab feeds, salmon bakes and wine-tasting events. If you're worried about the extra calories, work them off in the fitness room or take a
