SHENANDOAH CROSSING RESORT

Enjoy deluxe RV pads when visiting Shenandoah Crossing Resort and Country Club

There's a special feeling when visiting Virginia, according to the management of Shenandoah Crossing Resort and Country Club in Gordonsville, Virginia. Whether it's the immense historical value ... or the sheer beauty of the area, Virginia just has something other places don't. While staying in the area, you'll certainly feel pampered at the resort. The more than 1,000 acres of pristine wilderness including a 60-acre lake stocked for fishing, lush pasturelands, hiking, biking and horseback riding trails are just some of the amenities.

The deluxe RV sites pamper you and your home on wheels. The spacious pads include a summer kitchen, hot tub, gas and water hookups, and more. For a different type of adventure, rent one of the luxury yurts. Yurts are enormous, round canvas tents with central heat and air, flat-screen TVs, kitchens, bathrooms, bedrooms and everything in between.

Children and adults alike will enjoy bonfires, haunted trail walks, storytelling, and arts and crafts at Friendship Square, which also features a General Store, arcade, fitness center, sports courts and equipment rentals. Next to the Square is Watership Harbour, Shenandoah Crossing's pool and recreation area, which includes an expansive main pool, activity pool, two hot tubs and an interactive spray ground. Nearby Nickajack Park and Makepeace Station offer horseshoes, a kids' playscape, organized excursions, games, ghost tours and more. Sallie's Stables and the Equestrian Center also offer more than two-dozen trail horses for horseback riding.

The surrounding area features the homes of our founding fathers. A short drive will take you to Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson; Montpelier, James Madison's home; and James Monroe's home, Ash Lawn.
