

KQ RANCH RESORT

Horses and RVs mix well in this Southern California resort

This secluded 5-star RV and camping resort is located just 40 miles east of bustling San Diego. But you can leave the cares of the city behind as you drive into the secure, gated KQ Ranch Resort in Julian, California. Although near Southern California's hot spots, once on site at the secluded KQ Ranch your cares will disappear.

At RV sites on the property's eastern ridge, your horse will also be comfortable in its adjoining corral. The terrain around the ranch is tailor-made for horse and rider.

Of course you don't have to own a horse to enjoy KQ Ranch Resort. RVers can choose from a variety of sites—most with full hookups. The spacious clubhouse hosts scheduled activities, movies, pancake breakfasts, steak dinners, and games around two large, rock fireplaces. Outside enjoy the amphitheater, complete with fire pit. Splash in the heated swimming pool or relax with a soothing soak in the oversized Jacuzzi.

And don't forget your fishing gear because the "big one" awaits you in the lake. There's also a miniature golf course ready for your family's golfers big and small. Meet new and old friends at the horseshoe pits and the volleyball, tennis, and basketball courts.

KQ Ranch has the perfect camping accommodations for those without an RV. The spacious trailer cabins sleep 4-8 and are fully equipped with bathrooms and kitchenettes. They are available for members and their guests to use and include picnic tables and barbecue facilities adjacent to the sites.

In addition to all of the serene beauty within the resort, you'll also find large, clean bathrooms and showers with a spacious dressing area, year-round trailer storage, and laundry facilities. A fully stocked Country Store carries everything from RV accessories to ice cream and much more. So bring the entire family and make memories that will last a lifetime at KQ Ranch Resort.
