

PARADISE COVE RV RESORT & MARINA

Gorgeous waterfront RV resort and marina

Once onsite at the family owned and operated resort in Rockaway Beach, Oregon, you'll be surrounded by beauty at Paradise Cove RV Resort and Marina. And it's truly a paradise because RVers catch a view of the Pacific Ocean from their lovely site.

RVers have plenty of space at each site, plus 30- or 50-amp electric, water, sewer outlets, and picnic tables. There's free Wi-Fi and HD satellite TV available in the lower clubhouse. In addition to water sports in the ocean, lounge around the two outdoor swimming pools and indoor hot tub—all open seasonally. Meet new and old friends at one of the three clubhouses and indoor recreation room with basketball and billiards.

If you've traveled without your rig, rent one of two new deluxe cabins that sleeps four.

Visit nearby Rockaway Beach with seven miles of sandy beaches, restaurants serving delicious fare, and eclectic shops full of unique treasures. The town also hosts some of the greatest family festivals on the Oregon Coast, and with Twin Rocks towering in the background, the view is second to none.

If you brought your boat with you, there are several boat ramps that make it easy and convenient to spend an afternoon fishing or just soaking up the sun. Lake Lytle is the largest lake—spanning 69 acres and stocked each March with rainbow trout. The lake is also home to largemouth bass, sunfish, and catfish.

The birds love it here, too. During the summer migration months, more than 200 different species of birds can be spotted along the sandy beach.

Tide pooling offers a rare chance to see below the ocean's surface without having to get in the water. A low or minus tide is the best time to trek out to the rockier parts of the beach and peek into the pools of water to catch a glimpse of what's living down there.
