

SCHROON RIVER ESCAPE LODGES & RV RESORT

Nestled in the Lake George Region of New York

In addition to being within the Lake George Region, Schroon River Escape Lodges and RV Resort in Diamond Point, New York, is adjacent to a mile of the Schroon River. There are spacious full hookup sites throughout the resort, but you may want to choose a scenic site directly on the river. The level RV sites also have picnic tables and fire rings. People come from all over to fly fish, kayak and tube on the Schroon river. If you've chosen to travel without your rig, check into one of the Adirondack-style cabins.

A New York state-designated "recreational river," the Schroon River is a 68-mile long tributary of the Hudson. For anglers, the Schroon River offers a variety of species, including trout (rainbow, brook, brown), largemouth and smallmouth bass, northern pike and perch.

The region is packed with adventurous things to keep you busy, but you may not need to leave the resort because there are so many things to keep you busy onsite. Amenities are numerous and include a sparkling swimming pool, kid's playground and game room for kids of all ages, and horseshoes and lawn games. Adults aren't left out of the mix because there's a quiet adults-only lounge. The activities staff organizes barbecues and scheduled activities, along with musical performances. If you've forgotten anything, you can find a replacement at the on-site camp store.

There's a river-front beach area, Adirondack style lodge, hay rides, kayaks, tubes, horseshoes, and an activities director for children and adults.

Offsite, there are many local attractions. These include an Adirondack Extreme Adventure Course, Ausable Chasm, Natural Stone Bridge and Caves Park, Fort Ticonderoga. Nearby Lake George provides great activities including Lake George Steamboat Company and Lake George Kayak Co. If you like racing, visit the Saratoga Race Track, one of the oldest, most prestigious thoroughbred race tracks in the U.S.
