

LEISURE POINT RESORT
MILLSBORO, DELAWARE

An informal, lighthearted atmosphere is the hallmark of this five-diamond retreat

Leisure Point Resort makes enjoying the outdoor lifestyle as easy as settling into a chaise on a Delaware summer day. Ask owner Dick Harrison to describe this Coast Classic resort, and he'll tell you, "It's peaceful and serene, tranquil and clean here." In fact, Leisure Point Resort has won several awards for cleanliness and overall park grooming.

Step beyond the resort's inviting setting and discover a corner of the country that begs for exploration. Guinea Creek tributary empties into Rehoboth Bay here on a portion of the Delaware coast renowned for wide, sandy beaches and excellent fishing, crabbing and clamming. This is the epitome of coastal leisure. Easy beach access to Rehoboth, Lewes (15 minutes away) and Dewey (a 4-mile boat ride) makes the location just about perfect. If you'd rather sail in than drive in, boats can access Leisure Point Resort Marina from both the Atlantic Ocean and Delaware Bay, with 319 boat slips available for rental.

Uncover American history and Delaware's natural charm with a visit to the Nanticoke Indian Museum, a ride on the Cape May-Lewes Ferry or a stop at nearby Cape Henlopen State Park to fish from an ocean pier. Hike nature trails or climb a World War II-era observation tower and check out the busy Rehoboth Beach boardwalk with its amusements, eateries and special events.

Leisure Point Resort always has something fun going on, and the entire staff usually gets involved. Its lighthearted informality makes for an atmosphere that, when combined with the great location and superb maintenance, guarantees everyone a great visit and memories for a lifetime.
